MOOD BOARD
CATALOGUE

“As designers and consumers alike continue to transition away from cyclical trends, and instead focus on self-expressive colors that evade antiquated seasonal structure, we are seeing very notable non-traditional choices.”

– Leatrice Eiseman, Executive Director of the Pantone Color Institute.

Colours have a huge role when it comes to designing and creating remarkable interiors, and they aren't erratically used when we talk about home design. A vibrant palette is a constant tool in every designer's backpack. They communicate with us and above all our feelings, deeply affecting our mood and how we see the world, certainly affecting our quality of life but in an involuntary way.

So, let's talk about decisions.

When using a light colour, generally speaking, it makes the room feel spacious and luminous. On the other hand, using dark colours allows the room a feeling of smart elegance, beauty, and privacy. So, this year's Fall/Winter Trends will take two opposite directions: one towards a strong and vibrant palette, and on the other towards pastel tones for ethereal looks.

Light colors are thought of as feminine and spacious. It recalls purity, neatness, and finesse to anyone who is in a room of these colors. If in-room whites and greys are used on all its elements, it may give the illusion that it is much larger and higher than it is, giving it an exhilarating feeling of freshness. your interior design.

Vibrant hues are just the call for joyous spaces making them look bright, and in turn that makes you and your guests feel comfortable right away. When your room lacks shutters or doesn't have adequate lighting this is the fitting yellow to go for. A prodigious accent color to highlight the most relevant details in your interior design.

Who said that playing safe is the best road to follow? Play with colors, mix them with different textures and patterns. Create a room of your own that transmits to whoever visits the space exactly the person you are and what you are feeling!

ABOUT THE
FALL/WINTER 2018
TOP 12 COLOUR PALETTE

“Autumnal hues that evoke the feeling of leaves on the forest floor, rich plumage and twilight reveal a modern fall palette of deep and rich tones with outbursts of colorful surprise. With the addition of Pink Peacock and Mellow Rose to the palette, we see an enhanced feeling of playfulness and a colour range whose greater variety offers more opportunity for intriguing color combinations.”

These are the words used by Pantone to describe the trends of the Fall/Winter season 2018. Here at DelightFULL we are in love with these colours and we decided to share our inspirational mood boards, ready for your next amazing project!

PREDICTING
PANTONE COLOR
OF THE YEAR 2019

The new shades suggested by Pantone as future trends of the coming year are meant to tempt the eye “as well as the taste buds with spicy reds, sweet flamingo orange and rich purples.”

Maximalist joy is the theme of the next year and we tried to predict with one last mood board what the chosen colour for 2019 will be.

PANTONE 19-1860

Persian Red

Dramatic, provocative but regal colour that conveys an oriental charm, not only for the name it bears, but also for the strong remind of heat and spices.
